The Evangelism Report for December, 2017

Joseph Lee Sullivan, Evangelist, University church of Christ

Dear church family,

I am humbled by your help. The aid you have given me for 2017, has made this year possible. It's been a year of tears, stress, failures, setbacks, learning curves, thoughtful prayers and blessed triumphs.

The online report (www.evangelismreport.com) has a virtual following and many people are learning from what I have shared in this year's work. Such news has come by your prayerful help and by your financial generosity.

Story-line:

- It's official: the Mt View church group, (see left picture of the old building) is going to be called the "University church of Christ." The new address is above in the header. The move will take place soon. This Sunday, (December 17th) is our last worship service. We will have no official mail box or phone line. If you ever want to call me personally, my number is 813.313.9787. For those who have been donating through sending money to the building, for the brief interim, please send your support to my address: 4420 N Varsity Ave #1034, San Bernardino, CA 92407. Or if wished to the church preacher, Royce Bell. Please contact me, joseph.lee-sullivan@gmail.com, if you want to send it to him. Don't think he'd appreciate me sharing his address in a public forum. Which is understandable.

After this last Sunday we will worship in a Morgue. Sounds creepy I know. But once everything is set in place, the church members will be moving into a new home, on the first week of next year. We will be sharing this building with the Baptist, (see right picture for new building).

- Vision planning: I am writing this report on Thursday, December 15th, 2017. I just got back from Valley College, to sign a permission form to set up a booth this next Thursday, before school ends. It will be low foot traffic day, but I want to train someone who is interested in helping me. My goal for 2018, is to set up two regular booth areas each week, one at Valley College and one at Cal State. I've recruited some people to help me in this regard, which will help me with not suffering burn out. Burn out/exhaustion, has happened a lot in my work. Believe it or not, working 3 hours, while going up to strangers, for a evangelism event, is not easy on the nerves or body. Doing such work twice a week is hard, especially with everything else, that encircles directly with such work, contacting them, getting and putting together materials, coordinating Bible studies, on site campus studies, helping with transportation to church, etc.

God is in the details...

- This year has have been crucial in learning how to best focus on the work in CA. I have been very precise in outlining my efforts, experiences, methods, successes at www.evangelismreport.com. If you've been following along in my blog journal, you will see an archive of useful facts, tools, resources. This could not have taken place without your support. And our God has been very good to me in this work. Blessed be His Name.

Support:

I am staying here for Christmas. I want to get some things going to jump start the new year. In my blog online I mentioned that I created an Uber, (cheap Taxi) network to pick up college students, who want a "free Uber ride to church." I am excited about that. I will have a sign that says the above wording, or the like... and on the Bible study sign-up sheet, there will be a box, they can circle to let me know they are interested in coming to church.

Your support means a lot. I'm still paying of the transition cost for coming up here. And due to the church being poor, I fit the bill for most of my evangelism expenditures. So, it's taking a while to get out of dept. But because of your help, I should be out of debt in February.

If it was not for you, I'd be in a mess. The cost is high in CA. The circumstances are not easy. But because of you I am getting by. I have food on the table, shelter, etc. I have support that makes my work secure. You've made the difference. Sincerely I say, "thank you," for this help.

Hope you have a happy 2018! May Elohim, bless you.

In Brotherly Love,

Joseph Sullivan
